| a banker       | a police officer | a waitress | a receptionist |

Charades
This is a fun game. At first, allow the person who is doing the charades to speak, but not to say what job she is doing. For example, a waitress could say, “May I take your order?”

When students are more skilled at playing charades, they can try to show the job without using any words.

Charades
Work with a group. Think about a job. Demonstrate doing the job, but don’t say what you are doing. See if your group can guess which job you are doing.
READ-WRITE-TALK

All answers are correct! Encourage learners to explain why they think so.

READ-WRITE-TALK

Discuss in pairs or small groups:
- Is it good to work hard?
- What is the best job?
- Is it good to have free time?

Extra discussion:
- Why does Joumana say, “It’s too bad you're not a doctor”?
- Why does Samar say, “It’s better to have a real job!”?

READERS THEATER

Practice with the Teacher

First, practice all of the story together with the teacher. Read the story as a script in a theater play. An audio recording including the practice section is available for download at http://aei.uoregon.edu/wtwe

- Joumana: Nour, did you find a job yet?
- Nour: No, Joumana, not yet. What’s new with you these days? How are you feeling?
- Joumana: Fine, thank you. I’m a little tired. I am very busy with my job now.
- Samar: Joumana, you work too much! You have a job AND a husband AND two children. How do you do it?
There should be a lot of variation in the different ways of saying the phrases. Learners can draw on their own experience with being happy, hopeful, sad, and angry about something.

Then, practice with the teacher in different ways:

- Say in a little bit angry way, “Too bad you aren't a doctor. We need one here.”
- Say in a happy way (laughing), “Too bad you aren't a doctor. We need one here.”
- Say in a hopeful way, “It's good to have a dream.”
- Say in a little bit angry way, “It's good to have a dream.”
- Say in a happy way (laughing), “It's better to have a real job!”
- Say in a little bit sad way, “It's better to have a real job!”

Joumana: Samar, you are going to see soon!
Samar: Nour, what do you plan to do now?
Nour: Well, I would like to sing. I hope to be successful in a club in Tyre. I am going to have a job interview next week.
Samar: What does the family think?
Nour: They are shocked.
Samar: Ouch! My triplets kicked!
Joumana: It's too bad you aren't a doctor, Nour. We need one here. We don't need a singer.
Nour: It's good to have a dream.
Samar: It's better to have a real job!
Theater Tip
At this point in the course, learners should be comfortable enough with each other to be more emotional in their acting. It’s good to encourage this feeling, since Readers Theater is more interesting for everyone when there is more emotion in the readings.

Active Listening
Notice that different emotions are used in different groups. Make sure that learners understand and can display the different emotions: hopeful, angry, tired, sad, laughing, and happy.

Theater Tip
Use gestures to show feelings: tired, hope, shock, pain (ouch!). Have fun!

Group Work
Next, work in groups. Each group has 3 students. Each student is a person in The Hilwe w Morra Story. Each group reads the story out loud.

Active Listening
Listen as other groups read the story. Put a √ by the best answer for each group.

Group 1: ________, ________, and ________.
- Listen to Joumana. She is... [happy, hopeful, angry, tired]
- Listen to Nour. She is... [happy, hopeful, angry, tired]
- Listen to Samar. She is... [happy, hopeful, angry, tired]

The Hilwe w Morra Story, Family Tree
- Go to the beginning of this book. Add drawings or photos on the Hilwe w Morra Story family tree about jobs for Joumana, Samar, and Nour.
- All answers are okay!
READINGS

Audio recordings of both readings are available for download at http://aei.uoregon.edu/wtwe

What to Say?

The grammar focus here is on transforming verbs into people who do things. Not every verb will make a person by adding -er, and not every word with -er came from a verb. In many cases, however, this transformation works well.

Sentence Order

Put the sentences about Women-only Businesses in order (1, 2, 3, 4, 5).

Put the sentences about UNDP Helps Women in order (1, 2, 3, 4, 5).

What to Say?

In English, you can often name a person who does something with -er:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Action</th>
<th>Person</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>drive</td>
<td>driver</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sing</td>
<td>singer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>travel</td>
<td>traveler</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>walk</td>
<td>walker</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>run</td>
<td>runner</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Encourage learners to try to think of more verbs that create nouns by adding -er, as well as ones that don’t.

| Ask questions. | ... drive?
|----------------|------------
|                | ... sing?
| Do you ...     | ... own a business?
|                | ... ride in a taxi?
| Does she ...   | ... dance?
|                | ... travel?
|                | ... teach?
|                | Add your own!

| Make answers. | ... driver.
|---------------|------------
|               | ... singer.
| Yes, I'm a ... | ... business owner.
|               | ... taxi rider.
| Yes, she's a ... | ... dancer.
|                | ... traveler.
|                | ... teacher.
| No,            | ... I’m not. I'm a __________.
|               | ... she’s not. She’s a __________.

Family Job Tree

This time, learners are adding to their own family tree rather than to the Hilwe w Morra family tree. Help them with additional vocabulary for jobs, as needed.

Family Job Tree

Look at the family tree for your family in Unit 1. Add everyone’s work to the tree. Some people will have more than one kind of work, for example, homemaker and parent, or farmer and mother. Share your family job tree with the group.
WHAT’S THE BUZZ?

Learners are asking each other about work and about the future. Encourage students to think about why as they ask and answer the questions.

Note that the questions include “better” and “best.” You may want to point out the different degrees of comparison:

- good = base
- better = compared to 1 other thing or time
- best = compared to all other things or times

Similarly, there are three different degrees of bad:

- bad = base
- worse = compared to 1 other thing or time
- worst = compared to all other things or times

WHAT’S THE BUZZ?

There are 5 questions. First, practice the questions with the teacher. Then, each student talks to 3 students in the class and asks all the questions.

Write the names of the students and all the answers in the boxes below.

SUPPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES

VOCABULARY
You can use some of the additional flashcard activities from earlier units as well.

SUPPLEMENTARY ACTIVITIES

VOCABULARY

Flash Cards
On page 169 are flash cards for this unit. Use them as in previous units.
Word Lists

This can be fun as a competition. Try to set up the groups so that they are roughly equal in skill. The group with the longest list wins.

It’s a good idea to ask learners to explain the words on their list, too. That makes this an additional vocabulary development activity.

Miming Game

This is similar to the Charades game played earlier. It’s good to have teams that are evenly balanced.

Word Lists

Create your own list of verbs and jobs, like ride – rider, own – owner, sing – singer. Make two columns on a piece of paper. In one column, write a verb. In the second column, write the job that goes with that verb. Work with a group. See which group can make the longest list.

Miming Game

This is adapted from http://www.teflgames.com/wtw1.html

1. Divide into two teams. Each team chooses a name.
2. A member from one team comes to the front and picks up a card. The person acts out the job on the card. No words, just acting!
3. Members from both teams guess. The first team that guesses correctly gets a point.
4. A member of the other team comes forward and repeats Step 2. Play continues until the cards are gone. The team with the most points at the end is the winner.
PROJECT POSSIBILITIES

A. Dream Job
1. Find photos or draw pictures related to your dream job.
2. Include photos of other people who work with you.
3. Find photos or draw pictures of your dream work place.
4. Explain to others why you chose this job and this place.

B. Write a Business Letter
1. Find the name and address of a business.
2. Write a letter, asking about a job at the company.
3. Send the letter.
4. Share your letter and the answer from the company.

INTERNET: WEB QUEST

These activities are for those who have Internet access. The teacher can use these with one computer with Internet access and a projector, or they can be optional activities for learners outside the classroom.

Websites change regularly. Make sure that you have visited the site before you use it in class or send learners to these websites.

You may wish to use some of the material in class, as well.

Do: Answer as many questions as you can. You can use a dictionary to understand what the different jobs are.
Women-only Businesses Thrive in Beirut

Kai Ryssdal: For women in the Middle East, finding a place in business has never been the easiest thing. In Lebanon, though, entrepreneurial women have had the official support of the government. Laws that were passed in the early 1990s, after the civil war ended, designed to improve their professional prospects. In the nearly 20 years since, Lebanese women have been catching up slowly. The most recent development is an industry by women for women. Don Duncan reports from Beirut.

DON DUNCAN: There’s a revolution in the streets of Beirut, and it’s hot pink! Banet Taxi is a new cab service for women. Its name in Arabic means “Girl Taxi” and all 12 of its cars are painted pink.

NAWAL FAKHRI: I can offer my clients a feminine atmosphere in which to travel. You can see from the drivers -- clean, elegant, professional.

That’s owner Nawal Fakhri. Her office is abuzz with drivers -- all women in white shirts, with pink ties and pink flowers in their hair. If you’re a guy, they won’t stop for you unless you’re traveling with a woman. Since launching in March, these “Pink Ladies” have been turning heads all over Beirut.

RANDA BDEIR: I felt it was a very nice idea.

Randa Bdeir is one of Banet Taxi’s customers. She’s also an executive at Lebanon’s largest bank, Bank Audi, and was responsible for the launch of Lebanon’s first women-only credit card. Bdeir has noticed similar ventures popping up all over the country, like women-only gyms, and even women plumbers.

BDEIR: Women are an essential part of the society and the economy, especially for spending. What matters for us in the credit-card business is spending.

So Bdeir launched “Shine Card,” a credit card with a special feature for the Lebanese lady. One side of the card is a mirror.

BDEIR: The women can put on her lipstick by looking at herself in the card and after finishing, handing this card to the waiter at the restaurant to pay for the bill.

The mirror card is now one of the most profitable cards in Bank Audi's portfolio.

The American University of Beirut is home to Lebanon’s top business school, and these days more than half of its students are women. Dean of the school, George Najjar, says he sees many of them coming up with business ideas to provide goods or services specifically for women.

GEORGE NAJJAR: You see that in terms of the issues raised in classrooms, in terms of the research projects pursued. We are moving very fast towards a world of equality where women are given their due. And this is nobody's favor, they have earned it.

Taxi owner Nawal Fakhri is poised to collect her dues this summer. Lebanon is expected to bring in a lot of tourists. And 30 percent of them come from conservative Gulf states, where women are forbidden to travel with any man other than male relatives. Those female tourists are prime candidates for Fakhri’s pink taxis.

FAKHRI: I'm not building my business on tourism. Lebanon is just too unstable to depend on it. But the women who come here from the Gulf, they're certainly a bonus for me.

Fakhri says her fleet will double by the end of summer. And she expects to recoup her initial $200,000 investment by the end of this year. Not bad for what started as a flash of pink.

UNDP Help Lebanese Women in War-Worn Communities

Beirut - More than 40 women’s cooperatives have formed small businesses across Lebanon to revitalize communities that were economically devastated by the 34-day conflict with Israel in 2006.
Focusing on the well-being of women and wider communities in areas of Lebanon where some live on incomes as low as US$2.40 per day, the 42 cooperatives were resourced and trained with support from the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

The groups, comprising 500 women in north and south Lebanon, the Bekaa valley and the southern suburbs of the country’s capital Beirut, make a range of jewelry, textile and food products.

UNDP was the hand that helped us thrive in extremely difficult working conditions,” said the leader of Deir Kanoun Ras El Ein coop, Da’ad Ismail, speaking of the new dough-mixer, cutter, oven and generator that increased production of jams, jellies and the speciality sesame bread, Mallet El Smeed.

UNDP’s support during the last four years served not only to stimulate local economies, but also to shift traditional views on the role of women and work.

Zeinab Shamseddine, 23, was the only woman among 30 men on a mechanics and cellular telephone repair course run by UNDP in south Lebanon’s Arbsalim village, where the economy had been set back by the 34-day conflict.

“I just wanted to realize my goals,” said Shamseddine, who tripled her income to between US$300-600 per month and was able to offer stronger support to her family. “I was shy at first but it didn’t matter. I was driven and motivated and able to ignore the feeling of being the only girl in the class.”

While coops have a long history in Lebanon, originating under legislation enacted in the 1940s, women-only groups have continued to suffer from lack of investment, low levels of literacy in rural areas and poor transportation.

Through UNDP support and training in conflict-affected areas of the country, 42 of these groups, as well as individuals like Shamseddine, are helping communities to rebuild their lives.
