How to add a Kanopy video to Canvas:

Recently, the UO Libraries adopted the Kanopy Streaming Service that offers over 26,000 films and documentaries to enhance teaching and learning. The Kanopy service is a great way to “flip” your classroom; students watch relevant videos at their convenience, saving scarce, valuable classroom time for lecture and discussion.

More information on Kanopy’s Streaming Service can be found here:

To link a video in Canvas:

1. Find your film or documentary at http://uoregon.kanopystreaming.com/
2. Below the video, click the Share/Embed button, then select Embed and note the 6 digit film identifier.

To enable viewing on and off campus the URL must include our libproxy so please copy and paste the link below.

https://login.libproxy.uoregon.edu/login?url=https://uoregon.kanopystreaming.com/embed/107482

Note the six digit number at the end of the link. This identifies a particular Kanopy video. You will replace this identifier with the one that corresponds to the video you want to use.
3. Log into Canvas, go to your course and the assignment, discussion, quiz, or page you would like to add your video to. (You can link a Kanopy video into any Canvas area with a rich text editor.)

4. Select Edit

5. While holding down the control key (command key ⌘ for Mac users) press the K key. An insert link window will open.
   1.) Copy the libproxy code into the URL box and replace the 6 digit identifier noted in step two with the one associated with your video.
   2.) Substitute the URL in the Text to display box with your video title.
   3.) Select New Window for the Target and click OK.

6. Add any additional information and then save your work.
