

Geog 341: Population & Environment

Dr. Shaul Cohen
Mon & Wed
2:00-3:20
129 MCK

Fulfills: Social Science Group and the Identity, Pluralism, and Tolerance Multicultural requirements

This course explores:

- Historical approaches to concerns about population growth
- A geographic perspective that takes into account how economic, cultural, and political processes result in environmental issues in different world regions
- The role of discourses about women, marginalized people, and the environment are linked in discussions of population and the environment.

By the end of this course, you will have gained knowledge and a more nuanced perspective on one of the great challenges of the 21st century.