

My Visual Story: Comics and Personal Storytelling Discussion Journal!

Discussion Prompts for October 5th (as in you are required to bring in your thoughts and questions to the Oct. 5th class discussion):

1. What is the main theme of this graphic novel?
2. What are the most interesting aspects of this graphic novel for you personally? Describe at least two to three.
3. What is the most confusing part of the graphic novel? Think here in terms of an aspect of the graphic novel you do not understand and want to learn more about. Frame these as questions you want to ask the class (ex. The color scheme of this graphic novel is strange, I don't understand why the artist choose this type of coloring. Do you think this coloring has a specific message behind it?)

(Note: We may not get to all the questions in the first discussion! Some questions, like say the example above, may need to have some research done to properly answer. What we are after is a list of questions that we can explore all term long!)
