

Outside the Academic Box: Careers after your Doctorate

Working in a Technology Startup

Wed. Jan. 21st, 2015

12-1:30 PM

350 Willamette

Have you thought about launching a company based on your UO research? Would you like to work at a technology startup company?

Join us to hear Jason Boone, Vice President of Floragenex and Shula Jaron, Cofounder of Eugene's Fertilab

Thinkubator talk about their experiences in startup companies and learn about local resources available to help you launch your own enterprise.

In partnership with the UO Graduate School and Career Advancement in Biological Sciences (CABS)

All graduate students and post-doctoral fellows welcome! Additional information at: <http://blogs.uoregon.edu/outsidetheacademicbox/> The event is free but registration is requested by emailing Evey Lennon at: evey@uoregon.edu.
