Underrepresented Minorities (URM) are defined as domestic students self-identifying as Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino, Native American/Alaska Native or Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander for federal reporting purposes. The "non-URM" category is inclusive of all other students including Asian, White, Two or More Races, International, and Unknown.

Please note that: (a) The Two or More Races category includes some students who self-identify as one (or more) of the underrepresented minority races. (b) There are other racial/ethnic groups that have historically been underserved and/or underrepresented in higher education. Our definitions are continuing to evolve as we consider a diversity of perspectives, and as our institutional data sources are expanded and refined.

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) and UO policy, the data in this report are aggregated so that no individual student can be identified.

These data are being published in keeping with our institutional goal of recognizing and reducing disparate outcomes for marginalized students. For more information on FERPA please visit the website of the Office of the Registrar https://registrar.uoregon.edu/privacy

* Note that the above racial/ethnic groups are based on an expanded, non-federal definition. Specifically, the categories of American Indian/Alaska Native, Asian, Black/African American, Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander, and White include domestic students who self-identified with Hispanic/Latino ethnicity and/or with one or more additional races. In reporting based on federal race/ethnicity categories, students who self-identify with Hispanic/Latino ethnicity are reported as Hispanic/Latino regardless of race.

In reporting based on federal race/ethnicity categories, students who self-identify with multiple races are reported as Two or More Races.

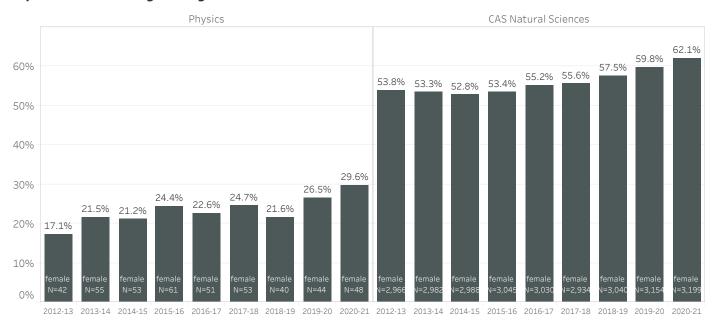

International students continue to be reported as International (nonresident alien) in the chart above, in keeping with federal reporting requirements.

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) and UO policy, the data in this report are aggregated so that no individual student can be identified.
