- Staff from Prevention Services and the Rec Center will be facilitating a training this term on January 31, February 2, February 7, and February 9. The training certifies students through NASPA to be considered a peer educator on their campus—the content is extremely thorough and is something they can include on their resume if applicable to them. The training takes 12-hours total which is why we've split it up over 4 nights for 3-hour sessions each. There is a cost associated of $30 per student.

- Student Advisory Board for Counseling Services
 - We are currently accepting applications to join SAB starting Spring 2023, SAB is an opportunity for students passionate about mental health, social justice, and pursuing a career in the field of mental health. Some responsibilities of SAB members include:
 - evaluating and providing feedback to improve CS resources and programs
 - engaging in student advocacy to support campus mental health and wellness
 - representing CS through outreach and education programming
 - participating in professional staff interviews and selection processes.
 - SAB members benefit from mentoring from CS staff, participating in professional development opportunities, and networking with other UO staff and faculty. Along with recruiting for general SAB members, we are also hiring for an African-American and Black Student Community Liaison and a Native American Student Community Liaison position on SAB.
